

SWISS WEALTHBRIEFING AWARDS 2022: EDMOND DE ROTHSCHILD, BEST FAMILY OFFICE OFFERING

The Edmond de Rothschild Group was recognised in the « Best Family Office offering » category at the ninth Swiss edition of the WealthBriefing Awards.

As a conviction-based investment house, the Edmond de Rothschild private bank supports its clients in preserving, developing and passing on their assets through solutions that combine long-term performance and positive impact. Based on a long financial tradition, our private bankers have developed a unique entrepreneurial spirit that leads us to constantly innovate for our clients, large international families and family offices, which we consider our partners.

WealthBriefing singled out the quality of the services provided by the Edmond de Rothschild group to family offices in the "Family Office Services" category, following an evaluation process conducted by a panel of experts from the Swiss wealth management industry.

The range of services offered to family offices meets the needs of large international families on sophisticated topics, drawing on the full range of the Group's expertise. Edmond de Rothschild offers high value-added solutions in private equity, real estate as well as the co-creation of a tailor-made offering with partners.

Michel Longhini, CEO Private Banking, commented: "I would like to congratulate the Wealth Solutions team and all of our bankers for this accolade, which recognises collective efforts made over time. This means that our offering is indeed aligned with our clients' needs, however specific and varied they may be."

Olivier Trémeaud, head of the Wealth Solutions team, highlighted: "The team and I are honoured to be recognised by the Swiss WealthBriefing Awards and our peers. We will continue to develop our offering, in order to provide innovative solutions that are always in line with the complex issues our clients face and in cases where we can create real value."

WealthBriefing, a leading provider of business intelligence for wealth managers, awards prizes to outstanding Swiss banks, law firms, investment advisors, technology companies and consultancies, in several categories every year.
